

Mendoza, Argentina

PINOT GRIGIO

Variety Pinot Grigio

Region Uco Valley, Mendoza

Alcohol 13% vol

pH 3.2

Total Acidity 5.8 g/L

Appearance Brilliant straw in colour.

Nose Ripe peach and honey mead with underlying flint stone aromas.

Palate Rich peach characters carry on to the palate to support a lovely silky mouth feel. Crisp mineral acidity features throughout the palate, supporting sound fruit weight and a clean refreshing finish.

Notes Jed Pinot Grigio is grown in the Uco Valley which is in the upper limits of the Mendoza wine region. The pristine Uco Valley is the most exciting white wine producing region in Argentina. This wine was made with minimal winemaker intervention to yield a vibrant and fresh style.
